FIRST DAY.

FAYETTEVILLE, TENNESSEE, OCTOBER 18, 1922.

OPENING.—The one hundred and ninth session of the Tennessee Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, met in the Methodist church at Fayetteville, Tennessee, at 9 A.M. October 18, 1922. Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon presided and conducted the opening service. Hymn No. 560, "And are we yet alive, and see each other's face," was sung, and the Bishop led the Conference in prayer. The Apostles' Creed was recited in unison, and hymn No. 325 was sung, "Break thou the bread of life." The Bishop then announced that it would be his purpose each morning to bring a message to the Conference based on the first six chapters of the second Epistle to the Corinthians, which he said dealt largely with the work of the ministry. For his opening message he read chapters i. 1-11 and ii. 14-17. He then gave the Conference a very inspiring and helpful comment on verses 3 and 4 of the first chapter of this Epistle—viz., "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort; who comforteth us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction, through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God."

Be it resolved further: That whereas it has come to our ears that Brother Barton has been tendered the presidency of our Southern Methodist University, we deeply appreciate this great compliment to him, but we believe he is in the position of greatest need at present, and we therefore trust that he will not accept this call.

INTRODUCED.—Rev. G. E. Holley, recent transfer to this Conference, was introduced.

TIME EXTENDED.—On motion, the time of adjournment for to-day was extended till one o'clock.

ORDER OF THE DAY.—The hour having arrived for considering the Centenary question, Dr. J. W. Perry, of the Holston Conference, and one of the Home Mission Secretaries, was introduced and spoke to the Conference, urging the supreme importance of making Centenary collections in order that the work at home and abroad may not be jeopardized. He brought us stirring reports from the field, especially from our Western border and from the European missions. Bishop Mouzon followed Dr. Perry with an earnest exhortation, urging immediate and constant attention to this work, and reading a telegram from Dr. Cram saying that $2,000,000 would be imperatively needed by December 1 to carry out work already begun.

CONFERENCE ORGAN.—The following paper was read by Dr. Ragsdale concerning a movement looking toward a better Conference organ for the three Conferences in our territory. Pending consideration of same, Mr. T. B. King, one of the commissioners from the Memphis Conference, was introduced and spoke explaining the plans proposed. Bishop Mouzon also spoke of the importance of a great Conference paper, and advocated the project. The Conference voted practically unanimously indorsing the movement. The proposition is as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE PUBLICATION OF A JOINT ORGAN FOR THE HOLSTON, TENNESSEE, AND MEMPHIS CONFERENCES.

At a meeting of the Commission on Publication and of presiding elders from the Holston, Tennessee, and Memphis Conferences (at the call of Bishop E. D. Mouzon), at Nashville, Tenn., August 29, 1922, the importance of a live and active Conference organ for the three Conferences was thoroughly discussed; propositions from several publishers were presented and were given careful consideration, and the offer of Lamar & Barton (hereto attached) was unanimously adopted as the best presented for our consideration; giving us immediate, practical ownership and control of the Conference organ and opening the way for absolute ownership at any time the Conferences may elect.

A committee of three—viz., Creed F. Bates, T. B. King, and T. C. Ragsdale—was appointed to draw up a report of the action of the above meeting to be presented to the three Conferences for their adoption; also to define the duties of the Commission on Publication, the manner of appointing the same, and to make any other necessary recommendations.

Your Committee submits the following as its report:

1. We recommend the acceptance of the proposition of Lamar & Barton for the publication of the paper.

2. We recommend the change of the name of the paper to _____ and, in case the three Conferences should decide on different names, that the Commission be authorized to determine the matter of the name.

3. That the Commission on Publication shall consist of nine members, one lay and two clerical members from each of the three Conferences, each Conference to elect its commissioners upon nomination of the Board of Christian Literature. It shall be the duty of said Commission so elected by the Conferences to make all contracts for the publication of the paper, to employ an editor for the same, and to fix the editor's salary; to regulate the editorial policy of the paper and to coöperate with both the editor and the publishers in all things appertaining to the successful and proper management of the paper.

4. We recommend that the Commission be given authority to take out a charter for the paper under the laws of the State of Tennessee, so as to give it proper legal standing.

THOMAS B. KING,
CREED F. BATES,
T. C. RAGSDALE.

NASHVILLE, TENN., August 26, 1922.

Bishop E. D. Mouzon: We submit to the Conferences of your Episcopal District the following proposition:

1. We will buy from O. W. Patton his mailing list, discharging thereby our debt against him as publisher of the Midland Methodist.

2. We will publish the organ of the three Conferences for them on a cost basis, profit, if any, to be prorated on a plan adopted by the Conferences.

3. Loss, if there be any, to be provided for by an assessment on the Conferences to indemnify us against such loss. It is understood that all advances necessary will be made by us and then be paid back when Conference assessments are collected.

4. We will furnish the editor selected by the Conferences an office in the House free of rent.

5. As Publishing Agents, we will recognize the right of ownership of the organ by the three Conferences, so that if at any time another publisher is desired, we will surrender the mailing list to such publisher, we to be paid for the same at a price to be agreed upon, which is $7,000. It is understood in this event that three months' notice will be given us. We will reserve the right to withdraw as publishers of the paper after giving to the Conferences six months' notice of our intention.

Fraternally,

I agree to the above.

LAMAR & BARTON, Agents.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.—The Committee on Public Worship announced that Dr. George Stoves would preach at three o'clock, and that the anniversary of the Board of Missions would be held at 7.30.

ADJOURNMENT.—The Conference then adjourned.

THIRD DAY.

FAYETTEVILLE, TENNESSEE, OCTOBER 20, 1922.

OPENING.—The Conference met at 8.30 A.M., with Bishop Mouzon in the chair. Hymn No. 334, "My faith looks up to thee," was sung, and prayer was offered by H. B. Blue. The Conference then joined in singing Hymn No. 628, "My heavenly home is bright and fair." The Bishop gave the third of his morning devotional lessons from the second Epistle to the Corinthians, reading chapter iv. from the seventh through the eighteen verse, taking the last two verses as the basis of his message: "For our light affliction, which is for the moment, worketh for us more and more exceedingly an eternal weight of glory; while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal." The Conference was then led in prayer by George L. Beale.

NEW ARRIVALS.—The presence of W. H. Wiseman, of the Dickson District; R. A. Skelton and G. W. Mabry, of the Murfreesboro District; of Rev. R. R. Paty, lay delegate from the Cookeville District; W. W. L. Stone, from the Mount Pleasant District; and J. E. Wilson, an alternate from the Lebanon District in place of W. K. Webb, was noted.

EDUCATION.—The Conference voted to make 11:30 to-day the time for hearing report No. 1 of the Board of Education.

NEAR-EAST RELIEF.—Senator W. R. Webb read the report of the Special Committee on the Near-East Relief, and the report was unanimously adopted as follows:

NEAR-EAST RELIEF.

Resolved: 1. That we earnestly indorse the action of our General Conference and our great ecclesiastical statesman, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., in regard to the relief of our Christian brethren in the Near East.

2. That we greatly deplore the fact that our government did not follow the suggestion and recommendation of the greatest man that ever ruled the destinies of any people, when, in the Versailles Treaty the United States under his leadership, had greater moral and material power than was ever before lodged in any nation, that the American government refused the mandatory for Armenia when they requested it. We do not believe that it would have cost our country a penny, or a drop of blood, to have saved our brethren of Armenia from the most savage and cruel persecution ever known in history at the hands of the unspeakable Turk, such was the prestige of our government under the administration of Woodrow Wilson.

3. We urge our ministers to devote January 21 to emphasizing our duties as individuals in making liberal contributions for the relief of our suffering brethren, their widows and orphans. "I was hungry and you fed me."

W. R. WEBB,

WILL W. ALEXANDER,

A. E. CLEMENT,

PREACHERS FROM OTHER CHURCHES.—Question 10 was called: "Who are received from other Churches as traveling preachers?" Henry A. Hamby, an elder from the Methodist Protestant Church, was received into full connection.

YOUNG PREACHERS INSTITUTE.—J. J. Stowe, read the following report of the Committee appointed at the last Conference to hold the Young Preacher's Institute:

REPORT TO THE TENNESSEE CONFERENCE OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE YOUNG PREACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The Young Preachers' Institute was held in June at Lebanon. The attendance was the largest and the interest the deepest of the series. For six years the committee appointed each October has the following June conducted an institute for the better training of the younger members of the Conference.

The first institute had an attendance of 45, of whom 28 had their expenses paid, and the cost of that first session was $345.68. This year 84 attended, the expenses of 40 being paid. The total cost was $801.82. These figures indicate in some slight way the steady, solid progress made in our effort to add to the equipment of the young preachers of the Conference.

Each year an outstanding man from some theological school has led in Bible study, and the work of missions, Sunday school, Christian education, preparation and delivery of sermons, and other subjects of vital concern to pastors have been treated by experts.

No part of the preacher's work has been overlooked, and special emphasis throughout the six years has been laid upon the problems of the country pastor. Dr. Smart, of Emory University, led this year in daily Bible study, and the other features of the program were handled by experts.

Each year the Conference Board of Missions, the Board of Education, and Sunday School Board have made small appropriations for the Institute work, but from the first the most of the money has come as contributions from individuals interested in the development of the young preachers.

The books of the Treasurer, Rev. W. H. Johnston, have been audited each year, usually by some bank official, and in every case the auditors have reported the books neatly and correctly kept and in balance.

The committee has paid the expenses of those unable otherwise to attend the Institute, and no young man selected by his presiding elder has been denied the advantage of this Institute for lack of money. In 215 instances payments by the committee have made it possible for preachers to attend the Institute.

Year after year the young men have expressed in most emphatic language their appreciation of the advantages offered them. From the first the plan was to conduct the Institute primarily for the young men, but always with the purpose of enlarging the work as speedily as possible.

The day for the larger work, your Committee believes, has come. We, therefore, recommend:

1. That this training work, in an enlarged way, be continued under the direction of a committee of seven, one of whom shall be nominated by the Conference Board of Missions, one by the Conference Board of Education, one by the Sunday School Board of the Conference, and one by the presiding elders, and that these four, when elected by the Conference, shall nominate to the Conference three others.

2. To this committee shall be intrusted the work of the enlarged Institute for the coming year, said committee to serve for one year, or until their successors are elected.

3. That this Conference invite the Memphis Conference to select a similar committee and that these two committees see if plans can be agreed upon for a joint institute for the two Conferences at interest. If such agreement is not reached, our committee to follow instructions given above, arranging an Institute for the Tennessee Conference. Provision as heretofore should be made to pay, when necessary, expenses of men attending.

4. That the Sunday School Board and the Board of Education of the Conference each be asked to make an appropriation of $200, and that the Board of Missions be requested to make an appropriation of $400 for this work.

Holley were called, and their characters examined and passed.

I. W. PARRISH.—When the name of Isaac W. Parrish was called, his presiding elder, H. B. Reams, stated that, unfortunately, Brother Parrish had become so deeply in debt that it was thought to be impossible for him to pay this indebtedness and continue in the pastorate. For this cause Brother Parrish requests a location. On motion, his character was passed, and he was granted a location.

P. R. RUSSELL.—When the name of Percy R. Russell was called, his presiding elder, W. M. Cook, stated that during the year rumors involving Brother Russell's character became current, but that no charges had been preferred against him. However, Brother Russell desires to surrender his credentials and withdraw from the ministry, while retaining his membership in the Church. The Conference granted his request, and his credentials were surrendered.

M. N. WALDRIP.—When the name of Marion Nelson Waldrip was called, his presiding elder, J. Allison Molloy, reported that during the year rumors involving Dr. Waldrip's character became prevalent; that a committee of investigation had been appointed, which committee reported a trial necessary. A trial committee was appointed by Bishop Mouzon, which, after a hearing of the case, acquitted Dr. Waldrip. His character was then passed.

DEAD.—When the names of B. F. Tipps and C. S. Gabard were called, the death of each was announced, and their names were referred to the Committee on Memoirs.

CREDENTIALS RETURNED.—The credentials of C. S. Wilson and

J. M. Horn, local elders, were returned, to the Conference, they having withdrawn from the ministry of our Church.

EDUCATION.—The hour having arrived for hearing the report of the Board of Education, Dr. W. F. Tillett read Report No. 1 of this Board. Pending consideration of this report, Dr. Stonewall Anderson, Secretary of the General Board of Education, was introduced and spoke of the results of the Educational campaign and of the plans of the Board. Dr. D. M. Ausmus, Conference Secretary of Education, spoke briefly of the results of our local work, and Dr. George A. Morgan, President of Martin College, gave an interesting and encouraging report of the work done in this institution. Report No. 1 of the Board of Education was then adopted as follows:

REPORT NO. 1 OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The report of the General Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which was referred to us by the Conference, has received careful consideration. We rejoice to learn from this report that the forward movement in the work of Christian education, which has taken place in our Church during the past quadrennium, is the most notable and encouraging that has ever taken place in any one quadrennium in the entire history of the Church. We are devoutly thankful for the many expressions and practical proofs which our people have given of their hearty and loyal support of our institutions of learning, both in their patronage and in their gifts of money. This readiness on the part of our people to supply our schools with both students and money puts the Church and its leaders under the deepest obligation to provide for the patronage of our people the very best schools that money can build and that Christian scholarship can equip. However grateful we may be for the divine blessings and educational achievements and successes of the past, our feeling of obligation and responsibility for meeting the important and ever-increasing needs of the future is even more pressing and imperative. Never before in the history of the race have the need and value of positively Christian education been so manifest as at the present day. We rejoice greatly in the courage and hope with which we can turn our faces to the future as we seek to pay the debt which this generation owes to that which is to follow. A marvelous and inspiring spectacle has been presented to us in the last three years in the unprecedented response of more than five thousand of our young people, both men and women, to the life service call which has been carried to them by our educational and Church leaders; and these volunteers are among the noblest types of intellectual and moral young manhood and womanhood found in our institutions of learning. In these consecrated young men and women are centered our highest hope for the Church in the future.

We are glad to note that our General Board of Education is taking an active part in the nation-wide movement to find a larger place for moral and religious education in all the schools of the country than has hitherto been the case; and we sincerely trust, under divine guidance, a wise program and effective method may be devised and inaugurated for accomplishing this much-to-be desired result. In this work we pledge our hearty support and coöperation.

We are greatly encouraged by what has been achieved in our Conference and throughout the Church during the past year in connection with the Christian Education Movement. The fact that we are able to report as much as as fifty-five thousand dollars as paid in during the year now closing is a matter of great encouragement especially when we consider how many obstacles have been in the way of securing money during this past year. We shall ask that our special Secretary for this movement, Rev. D. M. Ausmus, be given a hearing at this time that he may explain more fully what is desired and expected of our preachers and people in connection with this movement during the coming year. We recommend that the first week in November, as requested by the General Board, be approved and set apart as pay-up week for the subscriptions made to the Christian Education Movement.

Martin College.—It is with great satisfaction that we hear from Dr. George A. Morgan of the prosperity and success during the past year of Martin College, of which he is the honored and successful president; and the new session, we learn, has opened with an encouraging number of students. This college is steadily gaining upon the confidence and affection of our preachers and people, and this because of the excellent work it is doing for the fathers and mothers who trust their daughters to this Christian school. We heartily commend this well-located and well-conducted college to all parents in the bounds of our Conference who have daughters to educate. We doubt whether there is another college for girls in the State of Tennessee where so many excellent educational advantages can be secured at so moderate a cost as at Martin College. This institution is eminently worthy of all the help that we are giving it.

At this session of the Conference the term of office for the following trustees of Martin College expires—namely, G. A. Morgan, W. F. Tillett, Arthur B. Ransom, J. H. Ragsdale, and R. G. Peoples. We recommend that they be reelected for another term of four years.

Mountain School.—The report that comes to us from the school which we have recently built at Crossville for the special education of the boys and girls of the mountain region round about it is full of encouragement. This school has the largest possible promise for the future, and its power to render needed and much appreciated service to the hundreds of poor boys and girls in that part of our Conference territory is being limited only by the meager funds at its disposal. We count ourselves very fortunate in having secured for the principal of this school a young man of such consecration, wisdom, and ability as are to be found in Prof. R. R. Paty.

It is the desire of the Board of Trustees of this school that in the future the selection of Trustees for this school shall be nominated, one each annually, respectively, by the Board of Missions of the Conference, the Woman's Board of Missions, and the Board of Education.

We recommend that the number of trustees for this school be increased from fifteen to eighteen; and in case this recommendation (which is made at the request of the Board of Trustees) be adopted, we nominate Rev. A. J. Morgan as one of the three new trustees to be elected, these to hold office until 1928. We recommend that Rev. E. B. Chappell, whose term expires at this session of the Conference, be reelected as one of three to hold office until 1927. The other two trustees, under our adopted regulations for this school, are to be nominated, respectively, by the Conference Mission Board and by the Woman's Mission Board of this Conference. It is understood that this school was projected as a missionary enterprise by our Conference Board of Missions and is being most largely conducted by this Board; nevertheless, this Board of Education recognizes its obligation to contribute to its upbuilding and support to the full extent of its ability. There can be no better investment of money than in a well-conducted school of this character.

The Board of Missions nominates J. W. Dorton and N. D. Walker as their representatives and the Woman's Board of Missions nominates Mrs. J. J. Gray, Jr., and Mrs. A. B. Smith.

Respectfully submitted.

W. F. TILLET, Chairman;
J. A. BOSTICK, Secretary.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.—The Committee on Public Worship announced that J. W. Cherry would preach at 3 P.M. and that the Board of Education would hold its anniversary at 7:30, with Bishop Mouzon as the chief speaker.

ADJOURNMENT.—The Conference then adjourned.

FOURTH DAY.

FAYETTEVILLE, TENNESSEE, October 21, 1922.

OPENING.—The Conference met at 8:30 A.M., with Bishop Mouzon in the chair. Hymn No. 393, "Am I a soldier of the cross," was sung, and the Conference was led in prayer by E. P. Anderson. The Conference was favored with a beautiful duet by Rev. W. M. Lantrip and Mr. Tom Scott. Bishop Mouzon read for the morning lesson 2 Corinthians v. 1-15, which he said set forth the three supreme motives of the Christian—viz., the hope of heaven, the fear of the Lord, and the love of Christ. The Journal of yesterday's session was read and approved. J. C. Roberts was noted present, also John C. Clark, lay delegate from the Clarksville District, and Rev. T. B. Gilliam, from the Columbia District.

UNDERGRADUATES.—The following paper was adopted:

Whereas it is important that our young preachers should complete the course of study prescribed for them promptly as well as satisfactorily, and whereas some of them have been continued for several years on work that should have been done in one year; therefore

Resolved: 1. That the presiding elders be requested to give their diligent attention to the matter early in the year, and, if possible, see that all undergraduates in the district, respectively, have the books that are necessary, and that their tuition in the Correspondence School be paid for them when such help is necessary.

2. That we regard a good example in working off the Conference Course of Study as a matter of great importance on the part of our young preachers.

H. B. REAMS,
T. A. KERLEY.

EDUCATION.—Report No. 2 of the Board of Education was read by J. A. Bostick; also the report of the Treasurer of the Board was read by E. H. Ayers, Jr. Pending consideration of these reports, Rev. R. R. Paty, President of our Cumberland Mountain School, was introduced and gave a very interesting and illuminating account of the work done there. Senator W. R. Webb and Bishop Mouzon spoke earnestly of the importance and needs of the work. W. B. Ricks spoke of the imperative need of a dormitory for girls. The report was then adopted as follows:

REPORT NO. 2 OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Board of Education recommends the following appointments: George A. Morgan, President of Martin College; W. F. Tillett, professor in Vanderbilt University; W. B. Taylor, Conference Secretary of Education and Special Secretary of the Christian Education Movement; W. W. Alexander, Secretary of the Interracial World Movement of North America.

After consultation with Dr. Stonewall Anderson, of the General Board of Education, and Bishop Mouzon, and with their approval of the suggested arrangement, we recommend a combination with the Memphis Conference in the matter of employing a secretary for the Christian Education Movement, if this arrangement meets with the approval of that Conference. This arrangement contemplates an equal division of time, of service, and of expense involved as between the two Conferences. We have reason to believe that this arrangement will be agreeable to the Memphis Conference.

We urge upon all our pastors, lay leaders, and local Church officials to exercise their full influence and put forth their most strenuous efforts to secure the payment, at the earliest date possible, of all subscriptions due to the Christian Education Movement.

Mountain School.—The Mountain School at Crossville has many pressing needs, uppermost among which we may name the need of scholarships to help the many worthy poor boys and girls who are seeking an education there and are unable without such aid to meet their expenses. This school is also greatly in need of a good library, and we believe there is no way in which money can be more usefully employed than in furnishing the books needed for such a library. The gift of books of standard literature, as well as money, will be greatly appreciated; and there are doubtless many such volumes found in the homes of our people that would be cheerfully donated to the Crossville School if the attention of the present owners was called to the wisdom of making this disposition of such volumes as are needed in the library of this school.

FAYETTEVILLE, TENN., October 18, 1922.

To the Tennessee Annual Conference.

Your Committee on Superannuates' Homes beg leave to report that after much correspondence and collection of information, the chairman called the committee to meet in April, 1922. Anticipating some special action by the General Conference looking to the interests of the superannuates, and the session of said Conference being so near, your committee decided to defer action until after the meeting of the General Conference. Your committee met again, upon the call of the chairman, on October 12, there being a full attendance. There was present also Rev. E. M. Harrell, Agent for Superannuates' Homes.

In view of the unfinished condition of the two recent great campaigns of the Church and, further, in view of the special effort for the benefit of the Superannuate Endowment Fund which the Church expects to make during this quadrennium, your committee decided, unanimously, to defer further action on the matter in hand for the present and we respectfully, recommend that this Annual Conference appoint a committee for further investigation along this line and report to the next session of this Conference, and that this committee be authorized and directed to receive and administer any donations or bequests that may be made for either individual or community homes for the superannuates of this Conference.

JOHN R. STEWART, Chairman;

J. TAYLOR STRATTON, Secretary.

The following committee was appointed to carry out the above suggestions: J. R. Stewart, J. T. Stratton, T. C. Ragsdale, T. A. Kerley, J. H. Parks, J. W. Cherry, and A. B. Ransom.

FAYETTEVILLE, TENN., October 20, 1922.

To the Tennessee Conference.

Your Board of Finance was delighted with the returns from the special effort which was made for the superannuates of our Conference last Christmas. From this effort the returns were sufficient to enable our Treasurer to send each claimant a Christmas check equal to twenty per cent of his annual apportionment.

We therefore request every pastor of the Conference to again present the interests of our superannuates and claimants to every congregation on the first Sunday in December, or as near thereafter as possible, giving all hearers an opportunity to make a voluntary Christmas offering to this most worthy cause.

We ask your approval of this request and that it be spread on the minutes.

J. TAYLOR STRATTON, Chairman;

C. A. SLOAN, Secretary.

FULL CONNECTION.—Question 6 was called: "Who are admitted into full connection?" Fred Amacher, B. H. Brandon, Garfield Evans, Luther Franklin Haley, Paul Fisher Lanus, William Herbert Saxon, and Charles Fulton Starnes, being recommended by the Committee on Admissions and also by the examining committee of the second year, having answered satisfactorily all the disciplinary questions in open Conference, were admitted into full connection after a very impressive address by Bishop Mouzon. The Conference heartily joined in singing, "Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love."

THE SEAY BEQUEST.—T. H. Hinson read the report of the committee appointed a year ago to investigate and report on the will of the late Rev. John Seay, of Wilson County. The report was adopted, and D. E. Seay, T. H. Hinson, and Joseph Webster were appointed the committee to rent the property and also to prosecute the law suit. The report is as follows:

We, your committee appointed to investigate the property bequested to the Tennessee Conference by the late Rev. John Seay, of Wilson County, beg leave to submit the following report:

We have looked the property over and find that the place has been cleaned up and set in orchard grass. The house is in a bad state of repair.

We recommend, first, that the place be rented for one year, and that a part of the proceeds be used to cover the house; second, that the present committee, or a special committee, be appointed and directed to file a bill in Chancery Court to sell said property, a part of the proceeds to be used for building a parsonage for the Lebanon Circuit and the remainder to be used for building a superannuate home in or near Lebanon, Tenn.

We also recommend that the remains of Rev. John Seay be removed to Lebanon, if satisfactory to the relatives, and that the expenses be paid out of the funds received from said property.

Your committee has consulted able lawyers, and they say that the clause in the will making the property nontransferable until the second coming of Christ is null and void, because it violates the Constitution of the United States.

After investigating the deed, we find that the trustees appointed by the Tennessee Conference have control of the property.

T. W. NOLAND, Presiding Elder;

T. H. HINSON,

D. E. SEAY,

JOSEPH WEBSTER.

READMITTED.—Question 8 was called: "Who are readmitted?" Answer, none.

LAY ACTIVITIES.—Prof. G. L. Morelock, recently elected Secretary of the Board of Lay Activities, was introduced and spoke briefly of the work of this new Board. Littell J. Rust read the report of the Conference Board, and the report was adopted as follows:

REPORT OF BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES.

1. The call from Director General Cram for $2,500,000 to be collected on the Centenary pledges by December 31 demands our immediate attention, and we therefore recommend that each local Church observe the Sunday set apart by the Centenary Commission with a canvass of all its subscribers to the Centenary urging them to pay the eighty per cent due on their subscriptions to date.

2. We pledge our support toward the collection of the Christian Education fund and urge the observance of Christian Education Sunday on the first Sunday in November, as designated by the Board of Education.

3. We heartily indorse the movement for a new Conference organ and urge that our members give it their hearty support.

4. Our last General Conference at Hot Springs called upon our Church to give first emphasis during the next quadrennium to evangelistic effort, and that the whole Church unite to pray and work for an increase in membership of not less than one million souls, which is ten per cent for each year. Resolved: That we urge our layman everywhere to organize and, in hearty coöperation with the pastors and evangelists of the Church, pledge themselves to give time, prayer, and earnest effort to the end that our Tennessee Conference may accomplish its part in this all-important work.

5. We desire to call especial attention to sections 545 to 551 of the Discipline for 1922, which outlines the organization and duties of the District, Circuit, and Church Boards of Lay Activities and urge that each district and charge organize in accordance with the organization as set out in the Discipline.

6. We recommend the reelection of Col. Felix M. Massey as Lay Leader of the Tennessee Conference.

AFTERNOON SESSION.—On motion, it was voted to hold a session of the Conference this afternoon, beginning at three o'clock. Bishop Mouzon appointed W. B. Taylor to preside.

CONFERENCE GROUP INSURANCE.—F. M. Massey spoke to the Conference concerning a method of insuring the lives of the members according to a group plan. After considerable general discussion, it was voted to appoint a committee consisting of F. M. Massey, A. B. Ransom, and J. J. Stowe to formulate and present a plan for group insurance at the afternoon session.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL.—The following paper was adopted:

Whereas Revs. T. A. Kerley, W. J. Collier, S. L. Fain, and R. W. Seay will round out fifty years' connection with our Conference in 1923,

Resolved: That the Committee on Public Worship, at our next session, be requested to arrange for a semicentennial service to be conducted by these brethren.

GEORGE L. BEALE,
CARL C. HINKLE.

MEMORIAL SESSION.—The Conference voted to hold a memorial session Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in honor of those who have died during the year. Doctor W. F. Tillett was appointed to preside.

MISSIONS.—Report No. 1 of the Board of Missions was read by C. R. Wade, and the report was adopted as follows:

REPORT NO. 1, BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The Conference Board of Missions, auxiliary to the General Board, the creature of the Conference, and the servant of the kingdom, is charged with the trust of sacred funds and the oversight of the Conference mission territory.

It is the desire and the purpose of this Board to be faithful to that trust and wise in that administration.

During the past Conference year there have been two joint meetings of the Board and the presiding elders. The mid-year meeting in January, with three sessions devoted to a missionary educational program, with large profit, we think, to both the men and the work; and the meeting preliminary to this Conference for the purpose of looking more closely into the present needs of the field and planning for the work of the coming year. Both were well attended by members of the Board and the presiding elders.

In this Conference there are at present fifty-four missions. It sounds like an indictment against Middle Tennessee Methodists, with their pride of citizenship, their fertile soil, and their great history, that twenty-five per cent of their preachers should be partially supported by others than those receiving their service.

But there are several reasons for these missions, and along the line of these reasons they divide themselves into as many classes.

Some of them are successors to once good circuits, where there has been a depletion of country life vitality consequent upon the general current drift to centers of population. The hope of these missions is that the tenants who have succeeded the large landowners will soon become a compact body of thrifty small farmers, occupying their own homes, working their own land, and supporting their own institutions.

Again, there are promising fields where the membership is not for the time being able to support the character of work that needs to be done, but with temporary help from this Board may develop into self-supporting charges of good standing within a short time. As illustrations of such wise use of your missionary money, we point to Belmont and Blakemore Stations and Carthage and Stewart Circuits, recent graduates from this Board. Others are coming after them.

Another class is general upon the Highland Rim and the Cumberland Plateau, and here and there in the lesser privileged localities of the Central Basin, where the people are poor, as is the soil that nourishes them, and where we do not look for early self-support. From such sections as these are two great returns—to-wit, the gospel is given to the people; and here are nurseries of some of our best preachers. And, while it was not formerly expected, this new day may apply such science of agriculture as will uncover an unexpected fertility and consequently a larger life to even these places.

The fourth class of our missions are those in new territory, which our Church, from one consideration or another, had never entered until recently, and which present conditions render an inviting field and the Centenary funds enable us to enter. A comparison of the number of missions at present with the number in 1918-19 will indicate that the Centenary fund has enabled us to enter new fields, or give support to needy places, in twelve localities.

These are the four legitimate classes of our missions. There is an illegitimate class, where the people are able to support the gospel, and their culture ought to be sufficient to spur them to it, but they will not. Your Board has never been able to know what is best to do with a mission of this sort. However, heroic measures have sometimes proved effective.

We desire to call especial attention to our work on the Cumberland Plateau. This territory, sparsely populated by a citizenship more or less retarded, but of the purest Anglo-Saxon strain in America, a people patriotic, hospitable, liberty-loving, thoroughly democratic, responsive to religion, and adaptable to genuine culture has stood for a century at our door with its Macedonian call. From time immemorial the territory has been shuffled back and forth between the Tennessee and the Holston Conferences, neither of which ever attempted for them anything adequate or worthy until within recent years. We have now in this territory ten missions, with appropriations from our Board totalling $2,600, and some from the General Board. These missions minister to the people of at least nine different counties. Some of them give good promise of early development into important self-supporting charges. And the section, as a whole with its wonderful natural resources underneath the surface, and on top as well, if proper culture be given; with her present material development and larger promise for the future, if the Christian forces of the State succeed in giving them the moral and spiritual culture they should, may be expected to soon become a prosperous land teeming with a worthy people.

In the heart of this great territory stands the one mission school of the Tennessee Conference, the Cumberland Mountain School, which had its inception in an initial appropriation by this Board of $30,000 from the Centenary fund. We point with gratification and pride to the splendid work done in the first year's operation of this school and to the place thus won in the affections of the local people. We solicit among the Methodists of Middle Tennessee a large interest in this Cumberland Mountain work.

Another mission territory of large importance is that of the Highland Rim, where we have, on the eastern rim, twelve missions, and on the western, some of them reaching down into the western valley of the Tennessee, twenty, a total of thirty-two, with an appropriation of approximately $8,000.

These missions are, for the most part, in real mission territory and may be expected to continue as wards of the Conference for many years. However, some of them are abundantly able to support the gospel among them, and should have the grace and obligation of self-support preached vigorously to their people.

It is the duty of this Conference to honestly face the question of better support for our mission pastors. Some of these pastors are among the most faithful and most efficient men we have. And the charges which are not served by such men should be, if they are to attain the development which must be our desire. The report of this Board three years ago said: "Our goal in the mission charges is a minimum of $1,000 per year for a married man and $600 for a single man, and we confidently hope to reach this goal in the not far distant future." It is our regret that this hope has not yet been realized. There has been an increase since these words were written of less than $50 in the average aggregate income of these pastors, which was one year ago $730. At first blush this would seem to indicate an extreme niggardliness upon the part of the Board in appropriations from the Centenary fund to missions. But such is not the case. A comparison of appropriations at present with those before the Centenary fund was in operation would indicate an appropriation of more than $120 per man from the Centenary fund. The inconsistency of the figures is accounted for by the establishment of the twelve new missions noted above.

But this is not the whole story. The average individual appropriations have increased more in the time mentioned than the average entire salary. This indicates that the people upon these missions are actually paying less now than they were three years ago toward the support of their pastors, which is especially striking in view of the fact that the period covered was peculiarly signalized by large increases in the salaries of our better paid pastors.

The condition demands heroic treatment, and the call is urgent upon presiding elders, since they are the "key men" in this situation, to strive to influence the people upon these missions to provide more liberal support for their pastors.

It has been the custom of this Board for several years to invite the mission pastors to meet with the Board in its annual meeting at Conference for a heart-to-heart talk about the situation in their several charges. These meetings have been uniformly helpful, both to the pastors, in an exchange of ideas, and to the Board, in a more intimate grasp of the situation. There is a friendly sympathy between the Board and the mission pastors.

The past year, as for several years, a number of our most wide-awake and efficient pastors, at the solicitation of this Board, have held meetings at places selected for them in the mission charges. The stipulation is that these men expect no pay other than their expenses, and that they stay long enough to accomplish some real constructive work. Some great and gracious benefit has come to several charges from this custom.

Your Board, as for several years, has made generous appropriations to the Preachers' Institute and Summer School for Christian workers. The Institute promises to be better next year than ever before, and we urge especially all our mission pastors to attend it. Ovoca has proved of vast worth to our younger Christian workers and is worthy of generous support.

We have also provided for four preachers of the Conference to attend the School for City and Country pastors next summer at Russellville, Ky.

We mention three outstanding necessities: First, we need to cultivate in our Conference missions the spirit of self-support. The Centenary, which was for the purpose of making us more genuinely missionary, has been prostituted by some of our people to an excuse for dependence and beggary. Straightforward preaching on the grace of self-dependence and real manhood is one of the great needs of the hour from our mission pastors and presiding elders.

The most manifest present need is that every dollar of the Centenary pledges, so far as possible, be redeemed. No genuine and generous Christian and Methodist can doubt that the Centenary movement marked the high tide of Methodism thus far in her history. It would be a most colossal calamity for the work planned upon faith in our people expressed in their pledges to fail for lack of redemption of such pledges.

We are glad to note still that the Tennessee Conference continues to hold an honorable place in such redemption.

But our greatest need always is the cultivation among all our people of a deeper missionary spirit. This for their own sake, as well as for the sake of the world, for, after the acknowledgement of God in Christ, nothing is of greater moment for genuine Christian character than a true missionary spirit, based upon the universal fatherhood of God and brotherhood of man.

The necessity for larger missionary giving will soon be upon us with tremendous force. To this end we desire to encourage the circulation of missionary literature and urge a much more general subscription to our Church periodicals and the harnessing of all those agencies—the Sunday School, the Epworth League, and the Woman's Missionary Society—which may be made so effective in the cultivation of a permanent missionary spirit. In this connection we desire to commend the Woman's Missionary Society for its wonderful work along this line and also for the great help they have given our mission pastors in boxes, etc.

We offer the following nominations:

J. W. Dorton and N. D. Walker as members of the Board of Trust of the Cumberland Mountain School.

W. B. Ricks for appointment as Conference Missionary Secretary.

W. V. Jarratt as representative of the Board of Missions on the Committee for the Preachers' Institute.

Rev. J. B. Waggoner for appointment as Conference Evangelist without salary.

WILLIAM B. RICKS, President;

C. R. WADE, Secretary.

LAY ACTIVITIES AND EPWORTH LEAGUE.—The Committee on public worship announced that at the Methodist church at 7:30 Prof. G. L. Morelock, Secretary of the General Board of Lay Activities, would speak, and at the Presbyterian church the anniversary of the Epworth League Board would be held.

SUPERANNUATE RELATION.—The name of J. J. Ransom was referred to the Committee on Conference Relations for the Superannuate relation.

ADJOURNMENT.—The Conference then adjourned with the benediction by J. Allison Molloy.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

OPENING.—The Conference convened at 3 P.M., with W. B. Taylor in the chair by appointment of the Bishop. Hymn No. 1 was sung, "O for a thousand tongues to sing my Great Redeemer's praise," and R. J. Craig led in prayer. The Journal of the morning session was read and approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.—Leave of absence was granted to W. H. Johnston, O. P. Gentry, and J. F. Beasley.

CONFERENCE INSURANCE.—The report of the Special Committee appointed at the morning session was read, as follows:

We, your committee appointed to consider the matter of group insurance for the Tennessee Conference, beg leave to report as follows:

We recommend—

1. That group insurance be taken out for the members of the Tennessee Conference.

2. That the chairman of Lay Activities and the chairman and treasurer of the Board of Finance—viz., F. M. Massey, A. B. Ransom, and J. Taylor Stratton—be appointed a committee to arrange details and carry out the decision of the Conference.

3. That those who expressed a willingness to pay $15 each and those who expressed a willingness to pay $7.50 each pay same at once to A. B. Ransom; that to this amount be added the $1,000 so liberally contributed by Mr. J. J. Gray, Jr., and that the balance needed to pay for policy be advanced by the Board of Finance and that the Board of Lay Activities be authorized to raise the sum advanced and repay same to Board of Finance.

F. M. MASSEY,
J. J. STOWE,
A. B. RANSOM.

H. B. Blue, F. M. Massey, and others spoke favoring the report, and it was adopted. After some discussion, it was finally decided that this committee be continued to further investigate and report to the next session of our Conference.

E. P. Anderson, J. F. Baggett, and J. R. Wright were appointed a committee to canvass those not present this afternoon in order to secure the requisite number to obtain the group insurance.

The Secretary was instructed to express to Mr. J. J. Gray, Jr., the thanks and appreciation of the Conference for his splendid offer of help in paying for this insurance.

CHURCH EXTENSION.—T. C. Ragsdale read the report of the Board of Church Extension, and also of the treasurer of the Board. The report was adopted as follows:

BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

The work of church building goes steadily on in our Conference despite the general depression which has affected all things involving finance. Many communities are exhibiting a sacrificial spirit in their zeal for adequate and modern church buildings which promises great things for the kingdom of God. It is a source of gratitude to your Board to recognize that our smaller towns and many of our country charges are not satisfied to build cheap and inadequate churches, but are striving to build such houses as will meet the demands of modern Church work and stand as monuments of their faith in God and of their conception of the value of religion to the world. Our one regret is that the funds of our Board are so limited that we are unable to do for these enterprises the half we should like to do. We are constantly confronted with the task of trying to make one dollar answer the call for two, and are sorely tried when it becomes necessary to refuse aid entirely to some worthy enterprises. There is no way for us to help the Churches more except for the Churches to help us by providing a larger fund. The pastors would not only aid us in our work, but they would greatly help themselves and their people by setting apart a Sunday in each year to preach the gospel of Church extension. All the literature necessary for the preparation of a sermon on this subject, which would stir the hearts of the people, may be had, free of charge, on application to the General Board at 1115 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky. Pamphlets for distribution and wall posters may be had from the same source.

We call your attention again to our Church Extension Loan Fund, which offers a splendid opportunity for a permanent and perpetual investment in the work of the kingdom, and at the same time pays a life-time annuity to the donor. The Tennessee Conference Loan Fund, which has been created by setting aside a small amount annually for this purpose, now amounts to over four thousand dollars, and, although less than ten years old, it is doing duty the second and third time in many instances and is an untold blessing to the Churches which have had its use. The General Board Loan Fund amounts to more than a million and a half dollars, but is till inadequate to our needs.

We would call your attention once more to the Architectural Department of our General Board. No church should be built, either in city or town or country, even on the poorest mission, without consultation with this department. However meager your resources may be, you will find that this department can give you advice which will make your money go farther and represent more adequate facilities when you have spent it than could be secured in any other way. Write to Dr. J. A. Baylor, Architectural Secretary, 1115 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky. Also bear in mind that the General Conference has created this office for your use and benefit. Under the law, as revised by our last General Conference, it is necessary for all Churches and parsonages which receive aid from this Board to keep their property insured, a precaution which should be observed even without a law to this effect.

We had a large number of applications before us this year, many of them for large amounts. Our funds are less than they were last year, and much less than two years ago. We have only about forty per cent of what is applied for. We have tried to place these funds where most needed and have given the most careful attention to each application. We have made the following appropriations:

CHRISTIAN LITERATURE.—J. J. Ransom read Report No. 1 of the Board of Christian Literature. A motion was made to adopt the report. After considerable discussion it was moved in lieu and voted that the report be recommitted for further consideration.

BIBLE BOARD.—R. J. Craig read the report of the Bible Board and it was adopted as follows:

THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

Whereas there is only one Book, and whereas the Bible is never seen in thousands of homes in this Christian land; and whereas the American Bible Society is a wonderful institution for the distribution of the Word of God; and whereas this great institution is to the home and foreign missionary a source of incomparable help; therefore be it

Resolved: That we, the members of the Tennessee Conference, will do what is in our power to forward the great work undertaken by the American Bible Society.

S. M. ENSOR,

D. T. RIDGEWAY,

R. J. CRAIG.

CHURCH PROPERTY.—The report of the Committee on Church Property was read by Mrs. J. T. Parsons, and it was adopted as follows:

COMMITTEE ON CHURCH PROPERTY.

We have six hundred and eighty-three churches, a loss of nine during the year; six hundred and forty-six congregations, with buildings, showing thirty-seven Churches without homes. Value of churches $2,727,200; increase of $4,100. We have one hundred and eighty-one parsonages, a gain of three. Total value, $503,150. Indebtedness on same, $16,532.

We have ten district parsonages, a gain of two; value of same, $50,000; increase in value, $9,500; indebtedness on same, over $3,000.

We carry $942,830 insurance; decrease over last year, $266,370; premium paid on same, $8,639.

Number of churches damaged, four; parsonages, none. Amount of damage, $760; collected on insurance, $85.

We, your committee, recommend that our houses of worship or churches be kept in good repair; that floors be kept clean; that all doors and windows be kept closed. A church is God's house, and should be kept in order.

We recommend that each charge furnish a pastor a comfortable home in which to live, and, furthermore, that every pastor keep this home neat and clean. It is an encouragement and inspiration to the people when Church property is kept in order.

We recommend that all parsonages be furnished with all necessary heavy furniture.

We, your committee, regret to find that there has been a decrease in insurance and recommend that special attention be given to this.

Respectfully submitted,

FIFTH DAY—MEMORIAL SESSION.

FAYETTEVILLE, TENNESSEE, October 22, 1922.

OPENING.—The Conference met in memorial session at 3 P.M., with Dr. W. F. Tillett in the chair by appointment of the Bishop. Brother B. T. Smothermon led the Conference in singing the Hymn, "I would not live always," to the tune of "Home, Sweet Home." R. J. Craig led the Conference in prayer. Dr. Tillett read for Scripture lesson John xiv. 1-7, and announced Hymn No. 593, "Servant of God, well done, thy glorious warfare's past," which the Conference sang with great feeling.

MEMOIRS.—Question 14 was called: "What preachers have died during the year?"

James Richard Harris, Billy Floyd Tipps, Thomas Burr Fisher, William Booker Lowry, Charles Scales Gabard, and Thomas Alexander Carden.

Rev. W. T. Haggard read the memoir of Brother Harris; Brother D. E. Hinkle read the memoir of Brother Tipps, which had been prepared by Rev. E. R. McCord, and Rev. John Stewart read the memoir of Brother Fisher.

The Conference then joined heartily in singing "There's a land that is fairer than day."

The memoir of Brother Lowry was read by Rev. T. A. Kerley, and that for Brother Gabard by Rev. James F. Tinnon. The memoir of Brother Carden was prepared by Brother John Durrett and read by the Secretary.

A large number of brethren spoke words of appreciation and love for our departed fellow workers, bearing testimony to their genuine piety and to their fidelity to duty. "Our people die well."

On motion the memoirs read were adopted as expressing the sense of the Conference concerning these brethren. (See Appendix for Memoirs).

ADJOURNMENT.—The memorial session adjourned with the benediction by Payton A. Sowell.

PREACHERS FROM OTHER CHURCHES.—Question 10 was called—"What traveling preachers have been received from other Churches?" The Bishop made a statement concerning one of our missionaries in Czecho-Slovakia, J. Paul Bartak, and asked that he be received into our Conference as a traveling elder from the Congregational Church. The Committee on Admissions reported favorably, and he was unanimously received.

Massey, and W. B. Taylor was appointed to consider this matter and report to the next session of our Conference.

TEMPERANCE AND SOCIAL SERVICE.—The report of the Committee on Temperance and Social Service was read and adopted as follows:

REPORT OF BOARD OF TEMPERANCE AND SOCIAL SERVICE.

Your Board of Temperance and Social Service begs leave to report as follows:

I. Temperance.

Our entire history as a Church establishes our position on this question so fully that little is needed in the way of restatement. Only as new phases of the question develop do we need to make plain our attitude. The Methodist Church has been a pioneer in the fight against the use of alcohol as a beverage, and also in the effort to limit and finally to outlaw the manufacture and sale of ardent spirits to be used as such. That fight is won. It is a part of the organic law of the nation that the manufacture, sale, and importation of alcoholic liquors to be used as a beverage renders one a criminal. Our effort now is to maintain and carry forward the fight to enforce the law and to circumvent every effort to repeal, amend, or in any way weaken existing statutes. We demand of our representatives in Congress that they be on guard and oppose by voice and vote any movement to weaken the Volstead Law, but on the contrary to strengthen, if possible, its provisions.

We give our hearty indorsement to the Anti-Saloon League and to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and hail them as fellow workers in this great cause. We welcome the fight and throw down the challenge to all our adversaries: "They shall not pass!"

Let all our citizens, and especially all our Church membership, recognize and proclaim aloud, with reference to this and all other statutes, the words of Assistant Attorney General Goff, that "no man is big enough to be above the law!" We call the attention of our preachers to the "World's Temperance Sunday," October 29, and request that as far as they can they give emphasis to this important subject.

II. Social Service.

Christianity is preëminently a social religion. Jesus laid down the Golden Rule for our guidance as individuals: "All things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them." St. Paul, likewise, has told us that "no man liveth unto himself." We must recognize that no man is intelligently and thoroughly Christian who does not set before him these principles as controlling axioms to regulate his conduct with his fellow men. But Christianity has also to do with men as organized into society, as well as with individuals in their private conduct. The Church, as such, cannot set herself as an arbiter in all the great controversies that arise in modern social life, between capital and labor, between employer and employed, in the great questions of politics and state craft. Jesus's answer to the young man settles that point: "Man, who made me a judge and a divider over you?" But the Church must maintain and proclaim the great fundamental principles of justice and equity, and unhesitatingly and continuously avow that what is wrong between individuals cannot be right when the same thing is practiced by corporations in dealing with their employees; that the Sermon on the Mount and the Golden Rule must be incorporated into the practice of individuals in their dealings with each other, and of aggregations of individuals under whatever name in like dealings.

Our people, preachers, and lay members are urged to study carefully the great economic questions that agitate society to-day so as to be able to have right ideas according to Christian standards, and then faithfully to live up to them. We urge our preachers especially to study the social creed of the Churches, as laid down in our book of Discipline, which represents the united view of the Protestant Churches of America; to call attention to this from their pulpits, to organize all their congregations according to the provisions of our 1922 Discipline for all forms of social service work and other lay activities; to urge that while the regeneration of the individual is first and foremost in importance and nothing is to be allowed as a substitute therefor, yet here, as elsewhere, Christ's law applies—viz., "By their fruits ye shall know them"— and that a life that does not interest itself in the social betterment of men falls very far short of of the Master's standard; that what we do for social betterment in a community, to make our neighborhoods more sanitary, to improve the conditions of living for tenants, whether in city or country, to have better school facilities, to weed out centers of vice, to bring about better interracial relations, that all these things are distinctively Christian, and that a man who is indifferent to any of these matters is so far lacking in the rudiments of Christ's teachings. "I was hungry, and ye gave me to eat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in; naked, and ye clothed me; I was sick, and ye visited me; I was in prison, and ye came unto me." These are the Master's standards of judgment for the great day, and by this test we must stand or fall at the last.

We heartily commend the work being done to advance the kingdom of God by the Methodist Centenary Institute, Wesley House, and Bethlehem House, at Nashville, and the Wesley House at Murfreesboro.

T. A. KERLEY, President;
N. B. TUCKER, Secretary.

HOSPITALS.—The report of the Hospital Board was read and adopted as follows:

REPORT OF HOSPITAL BOARD OF TENNESSEE CONFERENCE.

Your board, at a meeting held October 23, 1922, in Fayetteville, Tennessee, to consider the communication of Bishop Warren A. Candler in regard to hospitals, realizing the great need of such institutions, took the following action:

Resolved: 1. That we most heartily indorse the action of the General Conference in this direction.

2. That as members of the Hospital Board of the Tennessee Annual Conference we pledge ourselves to assist the General Board in the organization of Golden Cross societies for the purpose of carrying out the program outlined by the General Hospital Board.

3. That we consider this one of the greatest steps ever taken by our Church in following Him who gave the Church the great commission of caring for humanity's sorrows and woes, and we most earnestly request the coöperation of our entire membership in this great work.

Respectfully submitted,

W. A. MATTHEWS, Chairman;
W. L. NELSON, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMISSION ON FINANCE.

Your Commission on Finance has had before it representatives of the various Boards and causes included in Conference activities and has given careful attention to every item involved in the budget.

In obtaining a basis for apportionment of the amount to the districts, your Board took into consideration resources, salaries of preachers and presiding elders, and then applied the best judgment we could command. It should be borne in mind that in addition to these apportionments to the various districts there is being maintained in the Murfreesboro and Nashville Districts social service work through the Wesley House, Bethlehem House, and Centenary Methodist Institute, the latter district raising more than fifteen thousand dollars for this purpose.

We beg to submit for the adoption of the Conference the following:

Resolved: 1. That we respectfully request all boards making claims for money for the year next succeeding this to state in writing the amounts needed and the facts upon which the claims are based as briefly as can be done.

2. That this request be complied with as early in the Conference session as practicable.

Respectfully submitted,

J. R. STEWART, Chairman;

J. R. WRIGHT, Secretary.

ORPHANAGES.—A resolution from the Nashville Methodist Preachers' Meeting was read by J. R. Wright touching the subject of a Methodist Orphanage. The Conference indorsed the project, and a committee of four preachers and three laymen were appointed to consider the subject in all its phases and report to our next session. The committee consists of J. Allison Molloy, J. R. Stewart, J. R. Wright, T. A. Kerley, C. E. Rose, A. B. Benedict, and Volney James. The paper referred from the Nashville District is as follows:

Whereas, it has recently come to our attention that an effort is being made to interest our people in the establishment of an orphanage, or home-finding society, that will have for its aim the placing of homeless Methodist children in Methodist homes, or rearing them under Methodist influences, and believing that such an institution is not only worthy of our support, but that it is manifestly unfair to other denominations for our Church to expect them to care for our dependent children; therefore be it

Resolved by the Methodist preachers of the Nashville District in session assembled, That we indorse the said movement to establish an orphanage, or home-finding society, to be maintained by and within the Tennessees Conference, for the aim and purpose above mentioned and agree to support the same from our pulpits and otherwise.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.—The report of the Sunday School Board was read by D. M. Ausmus and adopted, as follows:

REPORT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

Your Sunday School Board affirms its declaration of last year, "that in the forward look of the Church there is need of a constructive program rather than a reconstructive one."

We are dealing with life and not merely with things. Our greatest opportunity in a constructive way is the privilege we have of starting at the beginning of the life of the individual and through instruction, nurture, and training causing him to grow as Jesus grew, "in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

It is beginning to dawn upon our consciousness that if the world is ever to be saved it must be saved in childhood.

The method of reconstructing adult life is too costly in human values, too slow in its process, and fearfully inefficient. Therefore a constructive program of organization, instruction, training, and expression that begins with the little child and ministers to him through the whole of his life is the outstanding need of the hour.

The Sunday school is undertaking this work, and through its plans and policies is striving to reach the goal of a society Christian in spirit and life, whose chief desire is the realization of the kingdom of God on earth and whose will is the will of God.

The work of the past nine months has been very encouraging. Our Field Secretary, Brother Cullen T. Carter, has done most valuable work and, although working under great handicaps, he has accomplished most commendable results. A brief review of the work is apropos here:

Last year there were ten training schools conducted, with an enrollment of 999 and a total attendance of 1,875. This year there were twenty-three training schools conducted, with an enrollment of 1,430 and a total attendance of 2,576. This shows an increase of thirteen training schools, 431 in enrollment, and 701 in attendance. There was reported last year 550 credits issued by the Teacher-Training Department, which was evidently an error, for the records show 278 credits. This year there are 320 credits; which is an increase of 42.

Fifteen institutes were conducted during the year, which averaged two days each, with a total attendance of 2,038.

Following is a careful detailed statement of the work:

Two Vacation Bible Schools were conducted at Lebanon and Livingston. The Lebanon school had an enrollment of 70 and continued for six weeks, with 5 teachers. Opened at 9 and closed at 11:30 A.M. Departmental instruction was given, with manual training added for the older boys and a class in teacher-training for the older girls, "Life in the Making" being the text used.

The Livingston school opened July 24 and closed August 18—four weeks. Eight teachers assisted in the work. Fifty-three were enrolled. Departmental instruction was given. The Bible and History of the Hymns formed the basis of study for the older children.

All the districts in the Conference have been organized. District committees, with one exception, were nominated by the presiding elders and elected at the District Conferences. The district organization is to be continued from year to year, and only vacancies as may occur are to be filled at each District Conference.

With one exception, tentative dates have been agreed upon for training schools in each district for next year. It has been planned to hold standard schools in Nashville, Lebanon, and Fayetteville Districts. Also efforts will be made to have standard training work put on at Ovoca and the Preachers' Institute, to be conducted as Conference schools. All other district schools will be nonstandard and will continue for at least four and one half days.

It has been planned to finish all training school work by July 15. The Superintendent will attend the Junaluska Training School the last two weeks of July. August, September, and October, until Conference, will be devoted to institute work.

After careful thought and inquiry, we make the following recommendations:

Coöperation with the State Sunday school work be conducted according to the principles adopted by the General Sunday School Board, which in substance are as follows:

1. Each Conference board to be left free to determine its own coöperation.
2. A committee to be appointed to handle all matters that may arise between the Conference work and State Association work.

The following goals for the year have been thoroughly thought out and will, if adopted, require every moment of time and all the help the Superintendent can command to succeed:

Organization.

1. A Sunday school organization in every congregation.
2. The Sunday school membership to show a net increase of 6,000.
3. One hundred and twenty-five Wesley Bible Classes—Intermediate Young People, and Adult—organized and enrolled.

4. "Four-Times-A-Year-Circuit Institute" organization in at least ten circuits.
5. At least ten Elementary Departments organized according to the requirements of the General Sunday School Board.
6. A minimum of fifty Programs of Work A and twenty Programs of Work B installed.
7. A setting up meeting early in the Conference year of each district organization.

Teacher-Training Work.

1. A minimum of six hundred credits issued by the Teacher-Training Department.
2. Standard Training Schools in the Nashville, Fayetteville, and Lebanon Districts. Standard Training at Ovoca and Preachers' Institute to be known as Conference Standard Schools.
3. Non-Standard Training Schools in Gallatin, Clarksville, Dickson, Franklin, Mt. Pleasant, Columbia, and Murfreesboro Districts.
4. Twenty-five institutes.
5. A reading course for Sunday school officers and teachers, with a certificate issued by the Sunday School Board to the Sunday school whose officers and teachers shall have read at least one book of the course to be selected by a competent committee.
6. Graded Lessons introduced into at least the Elementary Department of ten Sunday schools.

Church Membership.

1. Every baby in a Methodist home a member of the Cradle Roll, and every Cradle Roll baby baptized.
2. Regular attendance upon preaching service emphasized in every Sunday school.
3. Decision Day observed in every Sunday school and an ultimate objective of every member of the Sunday school a member of the Church.

Financial Plans.

1. An observance of Sunday School Day in every school with an offering, to be sent to the Conference Sunday School Treasurer.
2. A monthly missionary program given in at least half the schools, with an offering for missions.
3. Every Sunday school to give at least 25 cents to a dollar for district work, except in districts where standard schools will be held.

Equipment.

1. Every plan for a new building or for remodeling submitted to the Joint Commission on Architecture as authorized by the General Conference.
2. All of our Churches, wherever possible, be encouraged to build rooms and provide better equipment for efficient Sunday school work.

Our supreme need is an elementary worker. With such help, the achievements this year could be doubled next, and the effectiveness of the instruction in the training school be greatly enhanced.

Most all the help this year has been gratis, and well done; however, we cannot hope to continue in this way, because the work is heavy, the field white, and laborers few, and we have been forced to use a few helpers extensively.

Children's Week was more generally observed this year than last, and to those Churches that carried out the program there came great blessings. A still greater observance of this phase of work is urged.

Sunday School Day was observed quite generally, but there is great disappointment in the offerings taken on this day. For a Conference like ours the offering is pitifully small.

If our people could realize what this offering means to the Sunday school cause, we feel sure a more liberal offering would be given.

The use of Graded Courses is growing, and this is an encouraging sign. We call the attention of our people to the many excellent elective courses that are now being offered and recommend an investigation of these courses for Young People's and Adult Classes.

As a school, the Sunday school needs adequate building equipment and materials. We urge all who contemplate building to get in touch with Rev. J. A. Baylor, Architect of the Board of Church Extension, and let him help in the planning of your building.

We desire to thank the members of the Conference for their hearty coöperation and support during this year, and trust that it will be continued in greater measure during the coming year.

Give us adequate provision for our work, and we will pledge ourselves to advance this work of the kingdom along all lines.

We request the reappointment of Rev. Cullen T. Carter for Conference Sunday School Superintendent.

We recommend the appointment of Rev. William M. Green as Sunday School Agent.

R. H. HUDGENS, Chairman;
D. M. AUSMUS, Secretary.

OVOCA ASSEMBLY.—J. Allison Molloy read the report of the Board of Control of the Ovoca Assembly, which was adopted as follows:

OVOCA CONFERENCE REPORT.

The Summer Conference for Christian Workers held its regular ten-day annual session at Ovoca in July of this year.

This conference is doing the work for which it was intended. It is supported in the main by the various boards of our Conference, each making annual appropriations to meet the expense of the program.

The upkeep of the property is met by revenue received from other assemblies meeting at Ovoca and using our buildings and equipment.

We have property estimated to be worth from eight to ten thousand dollars and no indebtedness that we have not sufficient resources to meet.

The delegates come to this conference from the various Churches throughout the Tennessee Conference and pay their own expenses, they go back to the local Churches better equipped for service in the particular organization which they represent.

The faculty of our last conference was excellent and the classes in Sunday school, Epworth League, and mission and Bible study were well attended, our attendance being more than three hundred, which is about all we can accommodate.

In addition to the class work the many great messages of inspiration that were brought to us at the platform hour were messages of uplift and helpfulness to our delegates. Especially were we pleased to have our own Bishop Mouzon to meet with us and speak to our young people.

The date of our next conference is set for July 3-13 of next year, and we suggest that those Churches which have not heretofore had delegates avail themselves of the opportunity to send their young people to this conference for better equipment for service; especially do we believe it to be to the best interest of every Sunday school to have its superintendent attend.

We recommend the following for election as members of the Board of Control whose term of office shall expire in 1926: W. B. Taylor, E. P. Anderson, Aultman Sanders.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ALLISON MOLLOY, President;

W. M. CASSETTY, Secretary.

EPWORTH LEAGUES.—T. A. Matthews read the report of the Epworth League Board, and the report was adopted as follows:

EPWORTH LEAGUES.

The work of the Epworth League throughout the Conference this year has been one of marked increase along all lines. Twenty-one new Chapters have been reported organized. The evangelistic spirit which has prevailed has been notable, and the results very far-reaching in their character. The missionary spirit, the passion of the Master, has evidenced itself not only in a more widespread and intensive study of missions—the one task and commission of the Christian Church—but also in a response to the Macedonian call from the ends of the earth for life service in the holy task of taking the light to those who sit in the region and shadow of pagan darkness.

There is no agency of the Church more fruitful in the discovery of the young life of the Church to themselves and their mission in the world than the God-ordained agency we call the Epworth League, through its full-orbed program, covering as it does the various phases of the call of our Lord to the individual and the responsibility of the same toward a whole needy world. We rejoice that so many of our representatives on the far-flung battle lines of missionary activity were trained in the Epworth League.

We would call attention to the importance of observing Anniversary Day, that the claims of life service may be presented, and the collection taken may furnish means for larger extension of the work. The Discipline requires the observance of this day.

We are also happy to note that the best mid-winter conference in the history of the League was held at Lebanon this year, and also to report that the Ovoca Conference was one of noteworthy character in information, inspiration, and life service. We note also that most of the districts held institutes, and that there is a manifestly increasing interest in the League work. We would urge, therefore, a larger coöperation of pastors with the League Board, and the organization of Chapters wherever young people may be found, that this wonderful storehouse of power be not lost but conserved and directed for the glory of God.

We recommend the appointment of Garfield Evans as superintendant of missionary work of the General Epworth League Board.

The report of the Treasurer of the League Board of the Tennessee Annual Conference shows the following:

CONFERENCE RELATIONS.—The Committee on Conference Relations reported and the report was adopted answering the following questions:

Question 22, "Who are supernumerary?" Thomas M. Dent, John B. Jordan, and Lemuel R. Long.

Question 23, "Who are superannuated?" William H. Baird, Samuel W. Bransford, George D. Byrne, Asbury C. Couey, Thomas S. Cullom, Thomas L. Darnell, Samuel L. Fain, Matthew N. Ford, John P. Funk, John W. Gilbert, William H. Gilbert, John N. Handlin, Oscar P. Hill, Thomas H. Hinson, James R. Holmes, Jr., Lawrence Hosale, Henry S. Kennedy, William H. Klyce, John K. Lee, James M. Oakley, John J. Ransom, James H. Ray, John R. Reagin, Joseph C. Roberts, Rufus W. Seay, Payton A. Sowell, James F. Tinnon, Rufus Travis, Joseph Webster, and William R. Wilson.

CHRISTIAN LITERATURE.—The report of the Board of Christian Literature, which had been recommitted, was read by Dr. Ransom. A motion was made to adopt. In lieu thereof the Secretary moved that paragraphs 1, 2, and 3 be stricken out, and that part of the report relating to the Midland Methodist be also stricken out. The motion prevailed, and the report as amended was adopted as follows:

BOARD OF CHRISTIAN LITERATURE.

Your Board of Christian Literature begs leave to report as follows:

Methodist Publishing House.

We Methodists have great reason for thankfulness because of the prosperous condition of the Publishing House, including the branch houses at Dallas and Richmond. The total assets are listed at more than two and one-sixth million dollars. The net gain added to the capital of this big triple-planted enterprise for the past year was: At Richmond, $38,566; at Dallas, $58,800; and at Nashville, $119,847. Total, $217,843, that is about eleven and one-third per cent clear gain in 1921-22.

Sunday School Literature.

We return the compliment of the editor of our Sunday school literature when he complained that this Board did not refer to the Sunday school literature. We consider ourselves unfortunate that we did not receive a detailed statement of the output of Sunday school literature. We know roughly that the Publishing House sends out annually about one hundred and twenty-five tons of Sunday school literature. We know further that the Sunday school literature, in the gross, as well as in the net income, is the most profitable asset of the Publishing House. Further, we may confidently say, good as are the efforts at emergency-training of Sunday school teachers, the Church will do well to lay to heart the inevitable truth that "emergency methods of training are justifiable only by real emergencies" and may not be substituted for far-sighted and possibly sacrificial provision for the necessities of the future.

Christian Advocate.

Our general organ of religious literature continues to give out a remarkably excellent grade of food for the higher life. Some of its statements—the summary of figures of Dr. Carroll—showing that the Roman Catholics have a circulation of the better grade of Church periodicals equal to 11 per cent of Church membership against 7 per cent on the part of Southern Methodism. We thank God for our courage to face facts. An ex-convict friend of the writer of these lines carries at the head of his letters this motto: "Let me be afraid to be afraid."

The Board of Managers of Tracts and Evangelical Literature.

This is a general board and comes to us because of the ephemeral, or "current," nature of its publications.

This board came into existence at the General Conference of 1918, and has published ten tracts and books, chief of which is Dr. Chappell's valuable little book on "The Church and the Sacraments," a marvel of modest price at $10 per 100 copies. "What the Adult Applicant for Church Membership Should Know," by J. F. Archer, $1 per 100 copies.

In all the Board has published ten tracts and booklets ranging from fifty cents to $10 per 100 copies, and free to all mission charges.

We nominated as the Commissioners from our Conference for Conference organ, T. C. Ragsdale, J. R. Stewart, J. Taylor Stratton.

Respectfully submitted,

J. J. RANSOM, Chairman;

H. G. HARLAN, Secretary.

CONFERENCE ORGAN.—The following paper relating to a Conference organ was read by W. B. Taylor and adopted by the Conference:

CONFERENCE ORGAN.

Whereas the Midland Methodist, heretofore an organ of the Holston, Tennessee, and Memphis Conferences, and now in process of being put upon a better basis materially, financially, and editorially; and whereas such an organ in its highest point of efficiency is indispensable to the program of our work; therefore be it

Resolved: 1. That we will determine to at least double its circulation; that such circulation be apportioned to each district and by the district to each charge in such ratio that as nearly as possible it may be placed in all of our homes, and that our pastors and local committees on the Circulation of Christian and Church literature be and are hereby instructed accordingly.

2. That it is the sense of this body that at least in all our Churches paying a salary of $1,000 and above, an amount be put into the budget sufficient to place the Conference organ in all its homes.

W. B. TAYLOR,
E. R. McCORD,
J. A. MOLLOY.

At this point the Bishop called T. A. Kerley to the chair and asked the presiding elders to meet him in conference.

SABBATH.—The Committee on Sabbath Observance reported through W. F. Burden chairman.

It was moved to strike out reference to Sunday trains and Sunday newspapers, but the motion did not carry. W. B. Taylor moved to substitute the name of A. E. Clement for Noah W. Cooper on the Legislative Committee, and the Conference so voted.

The report as amended was adopted as follows:

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Under the old dispensation of the letter of the law, God commanded his people to remember and keep holy the Sabbath day. Under the new law of love, Christ declared to his disciples that the Sabbath was made for man, and that only work prompted by love was permissible on that day. Realizing that absolute obedience to his command is imperative, whether thundered from Sinai or whispered into the ears of his friends, we, your Committee on Sabbath Observance, report as follows:

1. That we deplore and oppose the operation of all Sunday business, excepting emergency, instances of charity or mercy; all Sunday amusements where admission is charged, such as baseball, motion picture shows, theaters, fair ground, and bathing beach amusements; also Sunday trains and Sunday newspapers and any other activity that debars people from a Sabbath day's rest.

2. That we express our appreciation to our preachers for their determined efforts and earnest appeals in helping to stop the opening of the State fair on Sunday, and request them to preach at least one sermon a year on Sabbath observance, and so help to create a public sentiment which will make impossible such Sabbath desecration.

3. That we heartily approve the work of the Lord's Day Alliance, and other like agencies having as their purpose the maintenance of the American Sunday as a day of rest and spiritual opportunity, and the unity of the Christian citizenship of the nation in a united effort to secure adequate laws to abolish all unnecessary Sunday labor.

4. That we express our appreciation for and approval of the work of our National Sabbath Crusade Committee, composed of Noah W. Cooper, W. R. Webb, and Bruce L. Lyle, and recommend that this committee be continued.

5. That we retain the committee appointed at the last session of our Conference to cooperate with others in securing better State Sunday observance laws at the next session of our Legislature; this committee to be as follows: Mrs. J. H. McCoy, Bruce L. Lyle, Mrs. J. J. Gray, Jr., Rev. George Stoves,

W. R. Webb, A. E. Clement, A. B. Ransom, Mrs. A. B. Smith, J. L. McWhorter, and F. M. Massey.

6. That the Tennessee Conference memorialize the Legislature for a Sunday law that will preserve our Christian Sabbath.

 MRS. A. B. SMITH, Secretary;
 A. L. HODGE,
 J. J. Zuccarello,
 MRS. F. L. HAWKINS,
 MISS MABEL RODDY.
 MRS. H. M. JARVIS.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS.—The Committee on District Conference Records reported and their report was adopted as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS.

The records of the eleven districts were before the Committee and all were typewritten except one. The Official Roll was incomplete in three of these records. One of the records was not signed by the chairman of the Conference. One was not signed by either chairman or Secretary. One was not properly headed. Five of the records were models of neatness and accuracy.

B. J. DUNCAN, Chairman;
 MRS. R. E. MOORE, Secretary;
 C. A. Jarratt,
 MRS. E. U. ROBINSON.

STATISTICS.—The Statistical Secretary reported and his report was received answering disciplinary questions 24-40, see "Condensed Minutes."

THANKS.—The following paper, offered by A. E. Clement, was adopted by rising vote.

Resolved: That we express our appreciation and sincere thanks to Bishop E. D. Mouzon for his heart-searching morning devotional addresses; to Brother D. E. Hinkle and his Church and the Mulberry people for their generous hospitality and splendid noon-day lunches; to the Secretary and his assistants for their patient and able work; to the other denominations for the courtesy of their pulpits; and to the daily papers for their full reports of Conference proceedings.

A. E. CLEMENT,
 FELIX H. COLEMAN,
 R. M. CHENAULT.

CONFERENCE TRUSTEES.—On motion of the Secretary the Conference Trustees were reappointed as follows: H. B. Reams, J. W. Cherry, E. M. Harrell, E. H. Ayers, Jr., H. C. Leach.

POSTMASTER.—The Conference showed its appreciation of the work of the postmaster by making him an offering amounting to $18.75.

STATISTICAL SECRETARY.—On motion of George L. Beale, the Treasurer of the Board of Finance was instructed to pay the statistical secretary $25 for his work.

CLOSING.—The minutes of the morning session were read and approved. Hymn No. 393, "Am I a soldier of the cross," was sung, Bishop Mouzon led the Conference in prayer. He then called Question 43, "Where are the preachers stationed this year?" and answered it by reading the appointments.

ADJOURNMENT.—The Conference then adjourned sine die with the benediction by Bishop Mouzon.

APPENDIX.

MEMOIRS.

JAMES R. HARRIS.—As upon the occasion of Moses's death, God pronounced the brief and beautiful eulogy, "Moses, my servant, is dead," so no doubt at the great day of rewards he will not only say "Well done, thou good and faithful servants," but he will place upon their worthy heads fadeless crowns of immortal glory. There are many among us who will never have historians to chronicle their deeds of self-sacrifice and heroic service, but in heaven, where their names are written, God is keeping their records faithful and true, and he will see to it that just mention be made of them in that "book of remembrance," he is writing for those "who fear him and who think upon his name." As the greatest forces of nature are those that work silently and are never seen, so often in the kingdom of God the humble, obscure, silent man is God's greatest force. "Ye are the salt of the earth," "Ye are the light of the world." Such was our Brother Harris and many of his class. He was not a great pulpit preacher, but he was a good preacher, a great man. He will be included in that company of whom the Judge will say: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things" in obscure and poor places "I will make thee ruler of over many things, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Brother Harris was born in Virginia, February 6, 1836. He was the son of J. R. and Rebecca Lody Harris. He joined the Church in 1855. He was admitted on trial into the Tennessee Conference in Franklin, October 18, 1882. He served faithfully and efficiently many of the charges in the Conference. He was always cheerful and hopeful, humble and happy. He was full of faith and a man of prayer. He, no doubt, is enjoying the rich reward promised to those who are "faithful unto death." He is survived by his faithful wife.

W. T. HAGGARD.

BILLIE FLOYD TIPPS was born near Lois, in Moore County, November 16, 1891. His parents were B. W. and Nancy Tipps. He was converted and joined the Lutheran Church in his early teens. He received his education in the schools of his native county with the addition of one year under Prof. R. K. Morgan and a theological course at Trevecca College, Nashville, Tenn. On December 25, 1912, he was married to Miss Jonnye Waggoner, who was a true and faithful helpmeet for nearly ten years. To this union was born one bright little boy, who perhaps has lost more than any other by this sad providence. May he follow with fidelity the footsteps of his father. Brother Tipps was admitted on trial into the Tennessee Annual Conference at Gallatin in October, 1917, he having joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, a short time before. While on his way to New Mexico, where he was called by the illness of a brother-in-law, he contracted pneumonia. On arriving in Clovis he was only able to see the brother-in-law once until he became a patient in the same hospital. Growing rapidly worse, he succumbed to the disease nine days later, on March 4, 1922. The circumstances of his death were peculiarly sad, in a strange city, in a distant State, far from friends and loved ones; but it came when he was on a mission of mercy trying to render unselfish service. Brother Tipps was only a member of the Tennessee Conference four and a half years. During that time he served one year on Pleasant Hill Mission, Fayetteville District, doing good work and endearing himself to the people. From Pleasant Hill he was sent to Unionville Circuit in the same district, where he did splendid work for three and a half years. Brother Jarratt, his former presiding elder, said of him: "He was confiding and sympathetic in his disposition, pleasant in the home circle, and seemed to know how to approach men so as to get the best out of them." He was a favorite son; his father affectionately called him "my red-headed boy." He had the energy, enthusiasm, and warm heartedness so characteristic of his type. He was full of faith and confidence in God, intensely practical, and abundant in the saving grace of common sense.

The house of earth shall smell more sweet
For the perfume of his life.

His remains were brought from New Mexico to Estill Springs to the home of his wife's father, Mr. Waggoner, and carried from there to Lynchburg, where the writer, assisted by the Revs. Omar Charles, J. B. Cheek, and B. J. Rochelle, conducted the funeral service in the Methodist church, and his body was laid to rest beside his loving mother in the Lynchburg Cemetery. The large number of people who attended the funeral from both charges he had served, together with the many beautiful floral tributes in spite of the fact that the hour of the funeral was not definitely known, attested his popularity and the esteem in which he was held by his people. The miracle of birth and the mystery of death are still the unsolved problems of the ages. To us his passing seems untimely. He was cut off in the very flower of his young manhood; but a life cannot be estimated by the number of years one has lived. Many have accomplished more in a few brief years than others have in threescore and ten. The greatest life that was ever lived ended at thirty-three years. Yet that life revolutionized the world. The great Judge alone can say where the influence of this young life will end. We say that he is dead, but the soul, the thing that made him what he was, lives on.

The flowers may fade and pass away;
They only wait through wintry hours the coming May.

E. R. McCORD.

The REV. THOMAS BURR FISHER was a descendent of the sturdy pioneer stock of the Carolinas. His great grandfather, Frederick Fisher, one of the heroes of the American Revolution, was severely wounded in the battle of King's Mountain. His grandfather, Jacob Fisher, moved from Mecklenburg, N. C., about the year 1814, to Verona, in Marshall County, Tenn. His father, John Fisher, the eldest of nineteen children, was born in North Carolina, in 1806. His mother, Mildred Stratton, of Maury County, was his father's second wife. Of this marriage there were three sons; of the former marriage, three sons and two daughters, of whom the elder daughter became the wife of the late Rev. R. M. Haggard of our Conference, whose sons, Berry S., now ascended, and W. T., still with us, have helped to make our glorious history. The subject of this memoir was born February 5, 1844. His second name was for the late William Burr, of the Tennessee Conference, whom he strikingly resembled in spirit, manner, and personal popularity. In the extensive notes on his life which Brother Fisher left, he says; "We had excellent religious training, both by precept and example, and every one of us came into the Church in childhood." He further states: "I made a public profession of religion when nine years of age, and joined the Church because I wanted to;

and to me the Church has been the noblest and dearest organization in the world." He grew up on the farm. The wholesome atmosphere, natural and moral, enabled him to have a healthy body and a pure morality. The grace of God was with him from his childhood, and he, like his Master, grew normally and in favor with God and man. He was always fond of reading, and was diligent in mental improvement. As evidence of his studious habits, he was qualified, at the early age of seventeen, to teach school, which he did. His education at this time was halted for a long four years, when he entered the service in the Civil War. In August, 1862, he joined the cavalry in Colonel Holman's regiment, General Dibrell's brigade and General Forrest's division. He and four brothers went through the war and returned home after the surrender. That he was trustworthy and courageous is suggested by the fact that he was in the courier service, and General Longstreet sent him with a dispatch from Knoxville to General Joseph Wheeler, who was at Maryville, some thirty miles distant, the intervening section being full of Union sympathizers. The first engagement after entering the service was the battle of Stones River at Murfreesboro, and so he had a taste of the worst at once. Among the many hard battles in which he took part was Chickamauga, one of the bloodiest. He shared with Forrest's depleted forces the pursuit and capture of General Streight and his much larger numbers in Alabama. There is no evidence that he ever wavered in his Christian integrity during those four frightful years of danger, temptation, and suffering. After the proclamation of peace, he returned home and went to work. Very soon he resumed his educational efforts, going to school two years near his home, then afterwards at Union University, a Baptist institution at Murfreesboro, where he took his A.B. degree. Brother Fisher had long been impressed that it was his duty to become a preacher of the gospel. He bears this striking testimony: "From my childhood I was called to the ministry. I will put it further back than that—I believe God put it into my very constitution, and it was kept before me so that I could never get away from it." He was licensed to preach, and soon after, in September, 1869, joined Conference, and was sent to Rich Valley Circuit. It was under the strong and gracious influence of the Rev. Adam S. Riggs that the young man was safely piloted into his life work. It was fortunate that so safe a guide as this godly man had opportunity to direct the way and impress the heart of the young man. Brother Riggs's home was Brother Fisher's headquarters while on the Rich Valley Circuit. A year or two after leaving the work, the young preacher was called to see the Methodist leader, who was ill at his home. The old man said: "Brother Fisher, you must remain with me until I begin to improve or until I die." So he stayed and nursed him until the fatal ending came. The whole sickness was marked by a triumph of faith, ending in glorious victory for the saint of God. This incident made an ineffaceable impression for good upon the young minister. This may have been in some measure a preparation for what was to follow in Brother Fisher's career. His itinerant course suffered many providential interruptions. Death invading his own home, and the homes of those near of kin, he was lead for a time to teach school. For a period of ten years his family remained on the farm at Chapel Hill, while he went hither and thither on his mission. Revealing his devotion to duty during the whole year that he was presiding elder on the Gallatin District, he visited his family only five times. Only those can appreciate this fully who knew Brother Fisher's great devotion to his family and home. Such fidelity to duty, coupled with his breadth and versatility, accounts for his uniform success in circuit, station, and district. Any fair estimate of the personality of Thomas B. Fisher would classify him with the unusual. While he had no quality so brilliant that it dazzled, he had none so somber as not to shed a pleasing light. His equilibrium was so masterful that nothing short of a catastrophe could unsettle him. He was a man of rare common sense. His judicial mind seldom failed to point the way to the solution of difficult problems. Possessed of unflinching courage in any final test, he never flaunted his aggressive qualities to be seen or heard of men. His sympathies were genuine and generous. The characteristics and habits of a rarely useful pastor were his. Preaching the glad tidings was his chief delight. He was a thoughtful and instructive preacher. Conference occasions did not daunt him. In the exercise of preaching he was perfectly at home, even when abroad. Happily he entered every door of opportunity. He sought goodness rather than greatness. If it may be said of any who have been among us that he was a good man, allowing these words to have their full implication, it may be said of him. On the occasion of his funeral, conducted in McKendree Church by Rev. Wicliffe Weakley, assisted by other brethren, one of them remarked; "If trying to criticize Brother Fisher's character, I would not know where to begin." The sentiment was sanctioned. After an active ministry of fifty years, still well preserved physically and alert mentally, he sought retirement. With regrets of the Conference the request was granted. In both of the two years which followed, he was called as an emergency man from the restful evening shades back to the burden and heat of the day. In the fifty-second year of his active service, while nominally a superannuate, he was called to his rich reward. If we may be permitted to enter for a moment the sacred precincts of his family life, it may be said that Brother Fisher's love of home and family amounted to a passion. In his home the extremes of joy and sorrow met. He was three times married. His first wife was Miss Sallie Roberts, who was a refined and cultured woman, the mother of Wilson, John Robert, and Mary, now Mrs. Boone. This beloved companion died in early mature life. Endeavoring for a time to fill the difficult dual relation, he obtained the consent of Miss Mollie Eastham to become his wife and mother to his children. She was a great helper in his ministry as well as in his home. He testified to her having filled this place as well as it could have been filled. She was the mother of Thomas Watterston and William Stratton. In 1903 she went to her bright reward. Remaining single for several years, while stationed at Gallatin he entered into the sacred relation with Miss Lula Boone, who became his third wife. Like her predecessors in his home, she was a noble, consecrated Christian. Soon she fell victim to a lingering illness, which ended her useful life in 1913, leaving her only son, Howard Boone. Few, if any, ever enjoyed the love and confidence of his family more. Brother Fisher was the embodiment of kindness and patience in the home, as elsewhere. Five sons and the daughter survive. They are filling useful and honorable places in life, and are an honor to their devoted father. Blessings upon them all. Brother Fisher will not soon be forgotten on earth and never in heaven.

JOHN R. STEWART.

The REV. WILLIAM BOOKER LOWRY, son of John A. and Mrs. M. J. Lowry, was born on May 24, 1848, in White County, Tenn., and died July 20, 1922, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Richardson, near Clarksville, Tenn.

The funeral service was conducted at the home on July 21 by several members of the Tennessee Conference, and he was buried beside his wife in the cemetery at Clarksville. He is survived by his daughter and sisters. Brother Lowry was converted and joined the Church on December 22, 1864, at Mount Gilead, White County, Tenn., near where he was born and reared, the Church that has given so many preachers to the Tennessee Conference. He was licensed to preach in 1867 and was admitted on trial into the traveling connection by the Tennessee Conference at Clarksville, Tenn., October 23-30, 1867, received into full connection, and ordained deacon at Murfreesboro, Tenn., in October, 1869, Bishop Paine presiding, and ordained elder at Nashville, Tenn., in October, 1872, Bishop Doggett presiding. He served appointments as follows: Wartrace Circuit, 1867-68; Smithville Circuit, 1868-69; Cumberland Circuit, 1869-70; Smithville Circuit, 1870-71; Marble Plains Circuit, 1871-72; Petersburg Circuit, 1872-76; Pleasant Plains Circuit, 1876-80; Richland Circuit, 1880-82; Pleasant Plains Circuit, 1882-83; Douglas Circuit, 1883-87; College Grove Circuit, 1887-90; Mount Pleasant, 1890-92; Savannah District, 1892-94; New Providence and Bethel, 1894-95; Clarksville District, 1895-99; McFerrin Memorial 1899-1902; Lebanon District, 1902-06; Springfield, 1906-09; Gallatin, 1909-11; Nashville District, 1911-15; Columbia District, 1915-18; Thompson Station, 1918-21. This is an unbroken record of fifty-four years of faithful service, a wonderful record. The Rev. George L. Beale, Secretary of the Conference, says: "In the above list of appointments Pleasant Plains Circuit is, I suppose, the same as Blanche Circuit, for Brother Lowry in his sketch in the Minutes of 1901 says he served Blanche Circuit five years. Brother Lowry and I were intimately associated for about forty-five years. He was my presiding elder twice, and I was his twice. I was also the pastor of his family two years at Lebanon and two years at East End, Nashville, while he was my presiding elder on the Lebanon and Nashville Districts. Our friendship was never broken; we trusted each other to the last. We discussed many questions and often disagreed. Sometimes these discussions were heated and our disagreements decided, but this never disturbed our friendship, and we trusted each other's opinion in matters of importance. We never feared or hesitated to talk freely and confidentially about appointments, including our own. When one of us was in the cabinet we sought the other's views as to the fitness of men for specific places. Therefore the one not a presiding elder knew practically all that was proposed and done. No harm ever came of this confidence, but, on the contrary, much good. This interchange of views and common knowledge on these delicate questions never gave the appointing power any trouble, but was a help in some critical cases. He was an effective preacher and a successful pastor. He loved people, and they in turn loved him. He was easy and agreeable in his intercourse with men and made many friends and few enemies. W. B. Lowry studied theology and learned to preach in the traditional school of theology, and, according to this school, he was strictly orthodox, and he never changed his views so as to accept modern interpretations of the Bible. He was so constituted that, having once learned things as taught him in his young manhood, he was ever satisfied with the results. This disposition and attitude kept him from reading the great modern theological books. His reading was confined to books that deal with the practical things of life and the Church. While he was strictly orthodox according to the traditional school of theology, he was at the same time a good example to his younger brethren of this same school of thought.

He was not unbrotherly toward those who did not and could not agree with him in all things. I never heard him utter a harsh or unkind word concerning them and their views. I never detected on his part the slightest suspicion that they were not as honest as himself. He did not believe that they intended to wreck the Church, neither did he believe they would do so. I never heard him say they ought to get out of the ministry, or that they had no right to eat the bread of the Church, but he said in effect what Mr. Wesley said to those whose views he could not accept: "If thy heart be right with my heart, give me thy hand." And when he saw in people a sincere purpose to follow Jesus, he bade them Godspeed. He was mindful of the words of Jesus, "If they cast out devils, forbid them not," and did not repudiate them because they could not accept his views. He was content if people and preachers were making an honest effort to find and follow Christ. He was not only Christian in experience and life, but was also in spirit, which, after all, is the most important orthodoxy. His view was that interpretations and creeds of both men and Churches are the work of fallible men, and that perhaps the last and best word has not been spoken. Practically the essence of his creed was, live as Christ lived and then think and let think, and when every one cannot see eye to eye still be brethren, not in form, but in fact. His preaching was for the most part practical. He wrote his sermons and adhered rather closely to the manuscript; when he did leave it and speak under the inspiration of the moment, he was nearly always more interesting and effective. He kept and used his manuscripts without change to the last. While there are advantages in this method, a different one would have led him beyond the bounds to which he went and would have increased his usefulness and power. In all these matters allowance must be made for one's make-up and the ability to pursue one method or the other. In reaching a decision on such important subjects, we should weigh well every phase of the whole question before reaching a conclusion, and when decision has been made, all should see to it that they do not become slaves of their methods. It can be said of the Rev. W. B. Lowry: "Well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

T. A. KERLEY.

REV. CHARLES SCALES GABARD, son of Rev. N. R. Gabard, deceased member of the Tennessee Conference, was born near Franklin, Williamson County, Tenn., September 20, 1855. He made a public profession of saving faith in Jesus and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1868 at the early age of thirteen. He was admitted into the Tennessee Conference October, 1878, at Clarksville, Bishop H. H. Kavanagh presiding, and served the following charges: Flat Creek Circuit, Hampshire and Pisgah, Lawrenceburg, Waverly, Liberty Circuit, Centerville, Erin and Cumberland City, Nolensville, Wartrace, Cornersville and Lewisburg, Ashland City, Chapel Hill, Wesley Circuit, College Grove and Triune, Unionville Circuit, Petersburg Circuit, Lynchburg Circuit, Bethesda Circuit, Antioch Circuit, Bethesda Circuit the second time. Three years the first time and one year the second time he sustained the supernumerary relation to the Conference. He was in a union meeting at Bethesda with the Presbyterian minister, Rev. Mr. Millard, which meeting was being held in the Methodist church in which the subject of this sketch died suddenly July 24, 1922. Funeral services were held in the church the next day at 1:30 P.M., conducted by the presiding elder, Rev. W. L. Jackson, assisted by Revs. R. H. Hudgens, W. H. Baird, J. F. Tinnon, and Rev. Mr. Millard. The presiding elder baptized and received into the Church three girls before the casket was removed from the church. After funeral services the remains were carried to Triune and were buried in the presence of his mother, son, ten Methodist ministers, and a large congregation of sympathizing friends. The deceased leaves a mother in age and feebleness extreme, a son, and two daughters to mourn their earthly loss. Brother Gabard was a Christian gentleman. He was not what would be termed a great preacher, but was unusually endowed with common sense, and with great ease and comfort to all concerned he at once ingratiated himself into the favor and friendship of those he was sent to serve. He will be greatly missed by the members of the Tennessee Conference.

J. F. TINNON.

THOMAS ALEXANDER CARDEN.—A man's real contribution to the world is what he is, rather than what he does, for character counts more than deeds. This is particularly true of a minister of the gospel. The preacher is in a special manner God's man. He must hear things from above. He must have the freedom of the heavens. He must needs have the sky view, and his sky must be full of constellations. All the windows and doors of his soul must be kept wide open at all times. Thus the Christian minister becomes a prisoner of majesty with the glory of the universe about him. He, like the tribe of Levi, is not to be counted, but counted on. Especially must this be true of a successful Methodist preacher such as was the subject of this very imperfect sketch. Rev. Thomas Alexander Carden, oldest child of Esquire W. L. and Sarah Charles Carden, was born near Hillsboro in Coffee County, Tenn., January 10, 1854. His childhood and youth were spent during and following the Civil War when opportunities for a literary education were meager. These stirring times naturally made him a strong Southerner in his sympathies, and all his life he stood for and supported Southern ideals. He was converted at the age of fourteen and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Pleasant Grove September, 1886. He was happily married to Miss Martha E. Bryan September 23, 1873. To this union eight children were born, two of them dying in infancy. Four sons and two daughters, with the widow, survive him. He was licensed to preach November 20, 1886, and for one year supplied Sparta Circuit. He was admitted on trial into the Tennessee Conference at Fayetteville, Tenn., in October, 1888, lacking only a few weeks of being a member of this body thirty-four years, and, as the writer has been informed, never missed a roll call in all this time. Since becoming a member of the Conference, he has served the following charges: Spencer Mission, four years; Liberty Circuit, four years; Mt. Olivet Circuit, two years; Granville and Pleasant Grove Circuit, two years; Bethel Circuit, two years; Pisagah Circuit, three years; Olivet and Pleasant Valley Circuit, three years; Bigbyville Circuit, two years; Asbury Circuit, three years; Oakwood Mission, three years; Hohenwald and Napier Circuit, one year; Centenary Mission, one year. Four years ago he was granted the superannuate relation, the first year of which he made his home at Oakwood, afterwards moving to Southside, where he lived until death. Although having the superannuate relation, such a man as Brother Carden could not be superannuated. He continued to be vitally interested in the salvation of souls and the progress of the Church. He preached whenever opportunity presented itself and had a regular appointment at a schoolhouse near his home, where he was greatly loved and appreciated. In July last, he attended a family reunion at his old home near

Hillsboro and preached from Sunday to Wednesday night, when his strength failed him and returned home a very sick man and suffered much until the end came. He believed implicitly in the inspiration of the Scriptures, the high calling of the ministry, the thorough conversion of the soul, and the consciousness of salvation. He held to, and preached, the fundamentals of the Christian religion including the virgin birth of our Lord, miracles in both the Old and New Testaments, resurrection of the body, eternal punishment, and everlasting life. And being grounded in this belief, he was not moved by the liberalistic views of the so-called modernists. He believed the best defense of the Bible was to preach it, and the best proof of miracles was to have them performed on the souls of men, and in this he was eminently successful. He was a man of great Christian plainness and simplicity. His preaching was practical and effective. He was not lazy. He believed God to be a help, but not a lazy man's help, or an empty man's source of supply. He lived much in the Scriptures and was able to employ them with skill and success in arousing sinners and establishing Christians in the faith. His religion was not gloomy. Her ways were ways of pleasantness and her paths were paths of peace to him. His religion was of that kind the world requires, affording joy and consolation. On all proper occasions he related his experiences of the Christian life of love, joy, and peace in the Holy Ghost. "He loved with a brother's heart," and that sweet insistence on loving people, that ready and abundant wit, that keen sense of humor, that hearty "amen" of his, that never-failing love for youth, that spiritual nature which needed no advertisement to let people know he had religion, that glee he had in his friends, that faith in God and man, were part of the catalogue of virtues that made him beloved among his brethren and admired by his friends. A warm heart, a buoyant spirit, a lover of children, an apt enterer into the experiences of others, a comforting voice in the house of sorrow, a realization by others that this man cared for them and their griefs, made him an eloquent preacher and useful pastor. He belonged to the God of the Church as well as to the Church of God, and like the hills from whence he came, steady, immovable, unafraid of winter's blast, beautiful in their spring time array, facing dawns and sunsets, at home with the solitudes and tempests, retaining their primal dignity and the impress of the Almighty, so he lived and wrought. There was no other like him. He was altogether in a class to himself. He was just himself, always himself, happily himself. He was a lover of music, and in his earlier ministry he taught vocal music for the benefit of his congregations. He could act the part of choir leader or organist as occasions demanded. He could always entertain with his playing and singing. He made many dying saints rejoice as he sang the old melodies, and melted sinners to repentance with the gospel in song. He was a citizen of earth as well as a citizen of heaven. He took an intelligent interest in civic affairs. He believed that Christians cost the State nothing, while sinners were a continual drain on the public treasury. He was a staunch prohibitionist and threw himself without reserve into the fight against the liquor traffic and helped to win the great victory against this menace of civilization. He took a keen interest in the public schools, and made it the rule of his life to visit those in his community regularly and held the attention of the student body when he addressed the children. He was always a child among children, and when he preached to them he won many of them for the Master. The writer has seen them gather around him after the invitation weeping and expressing their love for Jesus Christ. He was always young. Years could not make such a man old. He was a devoted husband, a loving father, a faithful preacher, a constant friend, and a consecrated Christian. He is gone. He is no more among us. He calmly fell on sleep September 7, 1922. The funeral services were conducted by the writer, assisted by Revs. W. T. Haggard, F. G. Dickson, F. L. Hawkins, and J. H. Whitfield, and his body laid to rest with Masonic honors in the cemetery at Southside. Dear friend, till we meet in the morning, good night.
